Hi [name],

I'm reaching out to share my connection to The Healing Center, a grief support community in Seattle. [Insert your story here. Remind your network why The Healing Center means so much to you].

The demand for The Healing Center's services has doubled in the past year. The Healing Center has launched a GoFundMe campaign to raise $75,000 by April 3rd to ensure everyone reaching out to them will receive the services, support or referral they urgently need.

It's hard to know how to help someone who has lost a loved one. Ensuring that they have a place to go for support is one of the most compassionate things you can do. Please support The Healing Center by making a donation and then sharing the campaign with your friends and family! You can donate and view The Healing Center's story at <http://bit.ly/THCGoFundMe>

Best,
